

Who We Are

We practice law in a manner that is based upon a common sense approach to legal issues. We believe in exhibiting the highest level of integrity and always keeping the best interest of the client as our paramount concern. For over half a century, McConnell Valdés' dedication to quality, understanding of the law, trust and respect have been the foundation of our long-standing relationships with clients and with Puerto Rico.

Today, our attorneys continue our firm's long tradition of personal attention to the legal issues that face our clients. We are able to provide the perspective needed to guide clients through an increasingly complex legal environment, and to effectively address clients' needs in virtually any business setting. Our lawyers are experienced professionals with excellent academic credentials and diverse backgrounds and we operate as a team in the type of open atmosphere that promotes innovative thinking and creative problem solving.

When facing a major legal crisis, clients need the advantage of a sophisticated legal team encompassing the experience and knowledge that McConnell Valdés can offer. The firm is known for undertaking cutting-edge cases with far-reaching implications, and the results we have achieved speak for themselves.