Internal Revenue Circular Letter 18-13 of November 1, 2018 (“CL 18-13”)

As indicated above, beginning on December 10, 2018, excise tax and alcoholic beverages tax reporting and payments must be made through SURI. In this regard, CL 18-13 provides that as of December 10, 2018, bonds posted with PR Treasury to defer the payment of excise or alcoholic beverages taxes (“Bond”) will also be managed through SURI. Thus, although the Bond will continue to guarantee payment of deferred excise and alcoholic beverages taxes, the Bond will be used to determine if payment of excise or alcoholic beverages taxes of a specific import will be deferred; that is, if the amount of the Bond, or the available Bond-balance, is not sufficient to cover the amount of the applicable tax due, payment of the tax will not be deferred and the importer will have to pay the applicable tax due, or pay any taxes previously charged against the Bond. The Bond or Bond-balance will be restored when the importer pays the corresponding tax that was charged to the Bond at the time of import.

CL 18-13 provides that any Bonded Importer that wishes to adjust its Bond must submit its request through SURI.

PR Treasury will only authorize a Bond increase if an endorsement (“Rider”) from the insurance company is provided, stating the amount of the authorized and guaranteed Bond increase. The Rider must be filed with PR Treasury no later than 10 business days following the date in which the Bond increase was requested through SURI.

Additional Considerations

- PR Treasury intends to transition Puerto Rico income tax reporting to SURI by December of 2019, as indicated in IB 18-16.
- The new reporting and filing requirements also apply to imports made through a foreign trade zone (“FTZ”). Thus, importers will have to file a declaration when the articles enter the FTZ and leave the FTZ.
- In the transition from PICO to SURI, tax debts and filings that had been clarified in the past (while the PICO and PRITAS systems were in place) reappeared in SURI. Thus, we suggest safekeeping any evidence regarding tax debts and filings that have been clarified with PR Treasury in case they reappear as a result of the data transfer from one system to another. If you are currently clarifying any filing or debt, we recommend saving the filing and debt certifications before and after the matter was corrected in PR Treasury’s system.
