

Beyond Our Borders

We offer a truly global reach, backed by a proven track record in significant representations not only in Puerto Rico, but also in jurisdictions in the United States, Europe, and Latin America.

We are uniquely positioned to partner with clients to devise targeted solutions that anticipate, address and support their varied international interests. This ability to achieve results around the world requires access to a global network of legal services. As the exclusive member firm for Puerto Rico of Lex Mundi, the world's leading association of independent law firms, McConnell Valdés serves client interests the world over.

Comprised of more than 160 member firms – all leaders in their jurisdictions -- and with more than 20,000 lawyers in 560 offices in more than 100 countries, Lex Mundi is a global legal resource of unsurpassed depth. Member firms share a commitment to providing outstanding legal representation and local market knowledge nearly anywhere the need may arise.

We are able to further extend our international reach as the exclusive member firm for Puerto Rico of top international law firm networks: Club De Abogados and the Federación Iberoamericana de Abogados.

Our ability to think ahead lead us to create a Cuba Practice Team over 20 years ago. We have monitored changes to the laws and regulations related to the US embargo, preparing our clients to move forward and do business in Cuba in accordance with relaxed regulations announced in December 2014.

McV has served and continues to serve international clients providing them with a unique understanding of how business is done and how to effectively communicate business objectives within and between Europe, the two Americas and the Caribbean.
